Level I Assistive Technology Team Trainings

The Assistive Technology Program for Oklahoma Public Schools is a program that provides assistance to public schools in meeting the Assistive Technology requirements of IDEA. This program is made available to schools through a collaborative effort between the Oklahoma State Department of Education and the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center/Oklahoma Assistive Technology Center.

One of the program priorities is to work with schools to establish local assistive technology resource teams. The development of resource teams gives school districts a local option for addressing the assistive technology requirements of IDEA. Oklahoma public schools are welcome to participate by sending teams to be trained. Registration for team trainings begins in August of each school year.

Core team members should include: special education teachers, psychometrists or school psychologists, speech-language pathologists, and administrators. Depending on availability, additional team members may include a vision or hearing specialists, occupational therapists or physical therapists, general education teachers, and instructional technology specialists. The team membership should reflect multidisciplinary involvement and districts should commit to sending at least two members. All team members must attend all six training sessions.

The training consists of six sessions, which will occur throughout the school year. They are provided free of charge to participating school districts. The trainings are scheduled once a month beginning in the fall and ending in the spring. Training locations will be determined based on school participation and will occur in local communities.
